September 2 – October 12, 2014

Public gallery talk and reception: Sunday, October 5, 3:00–5:30 p.m.

Curators: Tracy Longley-Cook and Jay Hujatt

EXPOSURE highlights over 70 photographs by world-class artists presenting a wide breadth of aesthetic, conceptual and technical approaches to the medium. This diverse selection of images showcase a comprehensive range of subjects, processes and themes relating to social and cultural issues, race and gender, as well as traditions and movements within the last 60 years of the photographic genre. In addition to exhibiting photographs from the Stein Galleries' permanent collection, supplemental works are generously loaned from The Dayton Art Institute, Aileron, Sara M. and Michelle Vance Waddell, and Ben Montague and Jenn Farnington.

The Robert and Elaine Stein Galleries is pleased to be a participating venue with the 2014 FOTOFOCUS Biennial, a Cincinnati based month-long celebration of photography and lens-based art. FOTOFOCUS features special exhibitions, lectures, panel discussions, screenings, and performances during the month of October.
